Re: Colin Smith of Smith Consulting

During my time at previous employment I acquired the services of Smith Consulting to provide external guidance in our journey to implement the requirements of the Technical Standard ISO/TS 16949:2002. I also stated in my testimonial at the time the benefits provided by Smith Consulting and that I would have no hesitation in promoting his services to others and indeed return to Smith Consulting myself, should I need to do so in the future.

In my new role at Presspart Manufacturing Ltd one of my key objectives within my first year of employment was to obtain TS16949:2002 certification. Presspart Manufacturing Ltd, being predominantly a manufacturer to the Pharmaceutical industry did not have inherent knowledge of the Automotive customer requirements and therefore a sufficient understanding of the TS16949:2002 standard requirement / core tools.

Needless to say I used the services of Smith Consulting to deliver the aforementioned training in order to build the overall business competence levels of such tools and techniques.

I am pleased to announce that due to the joint efforts of Presspart Manufacturing Ltd. and Smith Consulting we were successfully recommended for certification to TS16949:2002 in November 2006.

I continue to endorse the benefits and services offered by Smith Consulting.
